The memories of a Wahabi scholar about his Dua upon a woman's breast!

Based on the report of Shia Online, Shaikh "Sa'd Albarik", a well-known Wahabi scholar, in a TV program, has talked about his memories about looking and praying upon a woman's breast.

This well-known Wahabi scholar in a program by the name of "Safar", in the "Aldalil" channel said: I keep praying for people. Many patience come to me so I would pray for them. One day as I was on an airplane travelling from Madina to Riaz, a man approached me and he had a severe stomachache. I asked him to open his shirt so I could pray for him.

"Sa'd Albarik" added: after this from among the cabin crew, a female approached me, opened her shirt and by showing me her breasts, she asked me to pray for her. I quickly turned my head so I would not see anything, but she cried: "Oh Shaikh, what difference is there between me and this man? I am also ill." When I heard what she said, I told her "only if another female would seat next to you, I will do this for you as well so an evil thought would not cross the mind of others! She accepted and I did the same for her.
